

Redmine - Patch #31066

Show projects using a table instead of an unordered list in the user profile page

Description

I felt that the project list on the Profile page looks better 'table' style than 'ul' style. Especially on users with a large number of registered projects.

- File 31066.patch added

I made a patch and attached it.

#2 - 2019-03-20 14:49 - Bernhard Rohloff

+1 Looks very clean.
I'll test it when I find a free time slot.

#3 - 2019-03-20 15:18 - Go MAEDA

- File projects-indented@2x.png added
- Target version set to Candidate for next major release

Thank you for submitting the patch.

Takenori Takaki, I think it will be even better if subprojects are indented like admin/projects page. Is it possible?

Maeda-san, Thank you for your feedback!
I also think that indented lists are better to see.
It is possible to indent in subprojects, by changing like the attached patch.

Thank you for the really nice improvement! But I encountered the following error while running test suites. Could you look into this?

```
Failure:

Oops...Sorry...I could't notice the test broken.
I repaired the broken tests.

LGTM. Setting the target version to 4.1.0.

I have slightly changed 31066-fix-broken-tests.patch.

- Use Enumerable#group_by outside the loop in order to avoid using Enumerable#select inside the loop. Maybe this is more efficient
- Remove "members" class from the table because "width: 45%" for td.roles looks too wide

#10 - 2019-03-26 03:38 - Go MAEDA

- File deleted (31066-group-memberships-by-project.patch)

#11 - 2019-03-29 00:45 - Go MAEDA

- Subject changed from Change style of projects list from "ul" to "table", displayed on user profile to Show projects using a table instead of an unordered list in the user profile page
- Status changed from New to Closed
- Assignee set to Go MAEDA

Committed. Thanks.
