Description

I found a rubocop offense is remaining.

```
$ rubocop db/migrate/20190510070108_add_unique_id_to_import_items.rb
Inspecting 1 file
C
```

Offenses:

db/migrate/20190510070108_add_unique_id_to_import_items.rb:3:5: C: Rails/BulkChangeTable: You can combine alter queries using bulk: true options.
```

```
  change_table :import_items do |t|
  ^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^
```

```
1 file inspected, 1 offense detected
```

Environment information:

```
$ RAILS_ENV=test bin/about
```

Environment:

```
Redmine version      4.0.4.devel.18732
Ruby version         2.5.5-p157 (2019-03-15) [x86_64-darwin19]
Rails version        5.2.3
Environment          test
Database adapter     Mysql2
Mailer queue         ActiveRecord::QueueAdapters::InlineAdapter
Mailer delivery      test
```

SCM:

```
Subversion          1.10.4
Git                 2.21.0
Filesystem
```

Redmine plugins:

no plugin installed
```

I have created a patch to ignore it like other migration files.

History

#1 - 2019-10-19 05:53 - Go MAEDA

I run RuboCop against r18732 but was not able to reproduce the warning.

```
$ bundle exec rubocop db/migrate/20190510070108_add_unique_id_to_import_items.rb
Inspecting 1 file
```

```
1 file inspected, no offenses detected
```

#2 - 2019-10-19 10:00 - Masahiro IUCHI

Reproduced it with BUNDLE_DISABLE_EXEC_LOAD=1 when using bundler.

$ BUNDLE_DISABLE_EXEC_LOAD=1 bundle exec rubocop db/migrate/20190510070108_add_unique_id_to_import_items.rb
Inspecting 1 file
```

C

Offenses:

```
db/migrate/20190510070108_add_unique_id_to_import_items.rb:3:5: C: Rails/BulkChangeTable: You can combine alter queries using bulk: true options.
  change_table :import_items do |t|
  ^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^
```

1 file inspected, 1 offense detected

I think this is a rare case written in bundler's documentation.

<https://bundler.io/v2.0/man/bundle-exec.1.html#Loading>

#3 - 2019-10-19 11:04 - Go MAEDA

Thank you for the feedback. But I still cannot see the warning.

```
$ ruby -v
ruby 2.6.5p114 (2019-10-01 revision 67812) [x86_64-darwin18]
$ bundler -v
Bundler version 2.0.2
$ bundle update --quiet
$ BUNDLE_DISABLE_EXEC_LOAD=1 bundle exec rubocop db/migrate/20190510070108_add_unique_id_to_import_items.rb
Inspecting 1 file

1 file inspected, no offenses detected

#4 - 2019-10-19 13:01 - Masahiro IUCHI

Sorry, BUNDLE_DISABLE_EXEC_LOAD was not related with this behavior.

Please execute rubocop command with "--cache false" option.

```
$ bundle exec rubocop --cache false db/migrate/20190510070108_add_unique_id_to_import_items.rb
Inspecting 1 file
C

Offenses:

db/migrate/20190510070108_add_unique_id_to_import_items.rb:3:5: C: Rails/BulkChangeTable: You can combine alter queries using bulk: true options.
  change_table :import_items do |t|
  ^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^

1 file inspected, 1 offense detected
```

#5 - 2019-11-04 03:50 - Go MAEDA

I don't know the cause, but I still cannot reproduce the warning in my environment.

```
$ svn info --show-item revision
18898
$ bundle exec rubocop --version
0.76.0
$ bundle exec rubocop --cache false db/migrate/20190510070108_add_unique_id_to_import_items.rb
Inspecting 1 file

1 file inspected, no offenses detected

#6 - 2020-10-12 09:33 - Paolo Lim

I can replicate this issue

```
$ rubocop db/migrate/20190510070108_add_unique_id_to_import_items.rb
Inspecting 1 file
C

Offenses:

db/migrate/20190510070108_add_unique_id_to_import_items.rb:3:5: C: Rails/BulkChangeTable: You can combine alter

r queries using bulk: true options.
  change_table :import_items do |t|
    ^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^
```

1 file inspected, 1 offense detected
