Description

Currently the default relationship between all filters enabled in Issue Query is "AND".
But this kind of filter is not powful enough.

If there is option to choose relationship for each new added filter, and option to set the brackets to combine them into different parts, that would be much more flexible for use.

And together with my another issue https://www.redmine.org/issues/32561 to enable multiple add for a single filter, that would be pretty.
