Description

If I create a filter in the issue listing page it would be very handy to have redMine remember that until I explicitely clear it or log out.

Consider the following:

List issues
Apply filter
Select Issue
Re-assign issue
Issue displayed

To get back to the filtered issue listing from there requires 3 clicks of the back button while clicking on "issues" in the LHN is 1 but that loses the filter.

I agree. I may change this behaviour or add a "Back to the list" link on issue that would keep the filter.

For now, if you want the left menu link to keep the filter, just remove the 2 occurrence of:
, :set_filter => 1
in app/views/layouts/base.rhtml (issue list links).

Change applied in rev 507.
Filter is no more reseted when clicking 'Issues' menu link.
