Redmine - Feature #3343

Read Permission Split

2009-05-12 20:34 - billy chou

Status:	Closed		Start date:	2009-05-12
Priority:	Normal		Due date:
Assignee:			% Done:	0%
Category:	Permissions and roles		Estimated time:	0.00 hour
Target version:
Resolution:

Description

The project non-member shouldn't see any other projects.
So we can provide a account for the customer to know their own project but never know others.

History

#1 - 2009-05-12 20:36 - Jean-Philippe Lang

You can set your projects as Private (uncheck Public on project settings) so that only their members can see them.

#2 - 2009-05-12 20:38 - billy chou

- Status changed from New to Resolved

Jean-Philippe Lang wrote:

> You can set your projects as Private (uncheck Public on project settings) so that only their members can see them.

Thanks.

#3 - 2009-05-12 21:00 - Jean-Philippe Lang

- Status changed from Resolved to Closed