The idea is nice. But what if the assignee changes? I personally would find the "jumping" "Assignee" badge confusing. Marking all previous assignees as "Assignee" would also look weird. An alternative solution would be to introduce another badge, smth like "Ex-assignee", but that'd produce too much info..

Maybe a separate badge for the assigned person isn't needed at all, since their avatar is already shown together with the author's. So, their status is kind of emphasized already.
