Description

Hello,
I was searching this possible feature or plugin to improve security and reduce visibility from admin users, but can't find it.
The idea is that a user with administration permissions have two different profiles:

- Projects Work profile: Profile to work like a non-admin user, on this profile the user just can see and work with the roles assigned on projects.
- Administration profile: Profile to just administration tasks, visibility of admin pane and operations on projects reserved to admins (or not permitted to non-admin users)

The swap between profiles must be done by introducing a password, the user password or a secondary password o 2FA e.g., accessible by a button on top like "Connected as XXXX as admin|user (swap profile)".

Thank you very much,
Kind regards.
