Description
Why not add textilize to comments for each revision? All my projects use this format like to messages on each commit.

This feature is already implemented.

If you have textile enabled, your commit comments are displayed using textile formatting (but not on the activity view).

For example, see: <http://demo.redmine.org/repositories/revision/1?rev=7>

If it doesn't work for you, feel free to post here:
