Description The Projects button in the top menu should be expanded to list all of the "My Projects" items, e.g. first have a link to the complete projects page and then below that list all of the active projects. Then you could remove the list from below the current project tasks.

I've attached a file which contains an SVN diff on how I implemented my idea.
I'm sure you'll want to clean it up some, I hacked it together rather quickly.

Please use the _2 file, I accidentally introduced a duplicate div ID in the first one.

Thanks. I've committed your patch (rev 534).
I made a few changes, to avoid displaying a drop-down menu with only one item ("All projects"), when user is not logged in or has no projects.
