Description Dear all, is there a plugin working for latest redmine releases enabling us to create filters in redmine and then sending emails in case of new entries to these? e.g. we have several custom fields we use. We create filters on these. If a new ticket falls into this filter, we'd like to receive email notifications. There has been the issue reminder plugin, but it seems it's not working in latest versions anymore, so that we now search for a plugin filling our needs. Thx Rgds Benjamin
