

Redmine - Feature #353

Assign a user as the client for a project

2007-05-22 21:48 - Damien McKenna

Status:	Closed	Start date:
Priority:	Normal	Due date:
Assignee:		% Done:	0%
Category:		Estimated time:	0.00 hour
Target version:
Resolution:
Description
I'd like to be able to optionally assign a user as the client for a project so that on the project overview page it showed their name & contact information.

History

#1 - 2007-05-22 22:05 - Damien McKenna

Could this just be done as a new user role that would have special attributes if it were assigned to someone on a project? E.g. anyone with the role Client on a project would have normal Reporter status but also show in the Project Overview page?

#2 - 2007-05-26 12:21 - Jean-Philippe Lang

You can create a 'Client' role and give to this role the same permissions as the 'Reporter' role.
On the project overview page, user with this role will be shown in the members area as the 'Client'.