Description

A feature like this would be in line with #7360. It wouldn't need the project and user level defaults though. It would IMHO be a more complete (than r19505) solution to the need expressed in #32818.

With this feature, the project_list_display_type setting added in r19505 can be removed.

You can configure default project queries in the following places (#35795):

- App-level: Administration > Projects > Default query (Projects list defaults section)
- User-level: My account > Default project query

Revision 21282 - 2021-11-15 23:03 - Marius BĂLTEANU

Update locales (#35795).
