Description

It would be nice to have one button to create one PDF taht contains the following:
- Project overview
- Gantt diagram over a certain period
- Overview of all issues
- Detailed report of all issues, categorized after status.

This should be straigth forward since all of this already exist, it is just a batch to create everyting in one go.

The thought behind is to generate monthly reports on a certain project.

Hi,
It wouldn't that hard indeed. It's just that there almost one feature request per day.

I would also really like this. Monthly or biweekly project reports in one pdf would be great.

I specifically need categorized reports. Not only a general report, besides reports to know the progress that users (developers) made at them projects.
