Description

I just started using this option.
I can create and edit entries for someone else - so that's all good.
But if I use the "Create and add another" option rather than just "Create" the "User" pick list no longer has all the names, and shows only <<Me>> and my actual name.

The workaround to this is obviously to use Create the whole time - it's a few more clicks to do repeated updates but it works.

However I thought I should report it !

(I'll try and get some screen shots next time I do this and add to the ticket)
