Description

Git commit - time log and issue link

After committing in git repo, which is added as Repository in Redmine project I have strange behaviour.

First - link of commit to the issue is not showing up until someone clicks on Repository page on exactly that one git repo.

After commit is linked to the issue, * time is not logged* on that issue immediately . It is logged on some random time in future (after 2 days for example).

Does anyone have similar behaviour?
