Description

In Redmine 6.0.0, we should display a warning during boot or on the Administration page if Redmine is using a MySQL version lower than 8.0:

Version	Release Date	End of life
MySQL 8.0	April 19, 2018	April, 2026
MySQL 5.7	October 21, 2015	October 21, 2023
MySQL 5.6	February 5, 2013	February 5, 2021
MySQL 5.5	December 3, 2010	December 3, 2018

Cloud providers also drops support for MySQL 5.7.

I have no objection to ending support for older versions of MySQL, but I don't think it is necessary to display such a warning message.

We have never displayed such a message and have quietly ended support for older versions of databases. If we will display such a warning message, we have to consider to display the same message for PostgreSQL and SQLite.

I agree with Go on this.

MySQL versions have been updated in RedmineInstall as part of #39437#note-16.

No other changes are required, I'm closing this.
