Redmine - Feature #396

New user can add new issues

2007-07-24 05:11 - Saul Frank

Status:	Closed	Start date:
Priority:	Normal	Due date:
Assignee:		% Done:	0%
Category:		Estimated time:	0.00 hour
Target version:
Resolution:

Description

A user can add issues without being assigned to a project. That is a specific project allows public issues to be posted

This is good for an intranet environment where employees can track IT related problems throughout the group.

History

#1 - 2007-07-31 18:32 - Jean-Philippe Lang

Will be available in 0.6.0

#2 - 2007-08-31 12:45 - Jean-Philippe Lang

As of rev 674, you can allow non member user to submit issues on public projects.
Go to 'Admin -> Roles & Permissions -> Non member' and check 'add issues'.