Description

Hi

It would be great if we had more flexibility in email setup for non registered users - I hope you can help?

Would it be possible to look at having a per project option of using default email address or custom address when sending out email alerts?

Also at present its only project members who are able to receive ticket updates, could it be possible to have a cc field in which you could specify other email address (non registered users) when making ticket updates.

These two options combined would make the workflow of ticket handling for non registered users a lot slicker.

I found these in the forums which are similar https://www.redmine.org/boards/1/topics/48847

Thanks in advance for your time and keep up the great work

Donald
