Description

Prior to Redmine 4.0.0, H4 author headings in e.g. issue history, news comments and forum topics were rendered with font-weight bold by deferring the property to the user-agent style. As a (side-)effect of #22978, this is no longer the case and I don't like that.

IMHO author headings should stand out from actual content more than they currently do and as such deserve to be rendered with font-weight bold.
