That column is added by the migration 20220806215628_add_default_time_entry_activity_to_roles.rb (source:trunk/db/migrate/20220806215628_add_default_time_entry_activity_to_roles.rb).

You need to check if the migration file exists on your disk and if it ran successfully. Otherwise, please contact Bitnami support because there is nothing to do from Redmine point of view. As last resort, you can manually add that column to the database, but you need to have experience with such kind of operations and you need to backup your database before.
