Description This patch adds the .vscode directory to the .gitignore file. The .vscode directory is automatically created by Visual Studio Code and contains user-specific IDE settings. For a developer like me who uses VSCode for Redmine development, it is inconvenient to track these files in version control. The .gitignore file already includes configuration settings for RubyMine (Patch #24523: Source: ignore .idea), so it makes sense to include VSCode settings as well. <pre>diff --git a/.gitignore b/.gitignore index ec4a91071..444173c3b 100644 --- a/.gitignore +++ b/.gitignore @@ -1,5 +1,6 @@ /project /idea +/.vscode /.loadpath /.powrc /.rvmrc</pre>
