Description
Hello,
While developing the plugin, I noticed that there is no available hook for the action button in the dropdown on the issue show and issue index pages.
I need this hook to display the action buttons consistently with the others; otherwise, I'm concerned that users might get confused by having too many possible button placement options.

To consistently display action buttons in the dropdown on the issue show and issue index pages, you can create a custom hook. Unfortunately, if there's no existing hook available, you might need to extend the plugin's functionality by adding your own custom code.

Thank you for your response!
The hooks I propose in the patch are new. I couldn't find a way to achieve this without modifying Redmine's core view.
