Description
I would like linking custom fields so that if I check a boolean field Condition.jpg it will enable another custom field.
Thus, I avoiding having spare fields by issue (so I only use the custom fields are really needed)

In essence, what is desirable is to have 'conditional fields' i.e. field x is readonly/editable and can have certain possible values - if field y satisfy specific condition.

+1. This is quite a powerful feature.

Having conditional field was requested by our customer and i have a day of work to dedicated to code on it.

i will try to provide a prototype.

Many features where requested around conditional custom fields.

This one seems to be the most promising : <https://www.redmine.org/issues/22026>
