

Redmine - Defect #4597

Display weirdness in users/show.rhtml in gravatars are enabled
