Redmine - Defect #4790

Problem with configuring subprojects

2010-02-10 15:26 - Robert Schneider

Target version:	0.9.3
Resolution:	Fixed		Affected version:	0.9.1

Description

I have managers that are allowed to create subprojects, but not (main) projects. Also the manager can edit projects.

If such a manager edits a (main) project (Project->Configuration->Information), e.g. he changes the project homepage, then the drop down box is prefilled with other projects. This is wrong. It should rather contain an empty entry that is pre-selected.

Revision 3405 - 2010-02-10 21:38 - Jean-Philippe Lang

Fixed: parent project field doesn't include blank value when a member with 'add subproject' permission edits a child project (#4790).
