Description
Don't autofill last name with duplicate of first name when none is entered.
Currently, if someone decides to not fill in the last name in the profile, the first name is shown twice everywhere (e.g. Foo Foo).
Not every project may want to force realnames.

Currently, lastname is a mandatory field. There's no way to leave this field empty in the profile.
If you don't want to display real names, change the user display format in application settings to display usernames instead.
