Concerning edit/delete post, there are several solutions:

- allow any user to edit (delete ?) his own posts
- add a new 'edit posts' permission, that could be given to some roles to edit any post
- define 'moderator' users for each forum. these users could edit any posts, lock threads...
- ...

What do you think ?

- Ability to join attachments to replies

Done in r923.

- add a new 'edit posts' permission, that could be given to some roles to edit any post

That would be imo the best solution since then you could create a role "Forums Moderator" with that right...

Maybe

separate edit and delete rights in the permission grid?

Keep up the good work JP!
