Remove the 255 chars limit on project description. Most of the time it is barely enough to describe projects purpose or goals!

Why don't you use the wiki for that ?

#2 - 2007-12-03 08:37 - Derek Montgomery

Because in terms of visibility for projects customers, the Overview page is the first page people see, and even if a lot of details can go on a wiki page where the user is oriented, 255 characters is often too small to explain purpose of project and give links to redirect to more information.

Patch for this at http://rubyforge.org/tracker/index.php?func=detail&aid=16462&group_id=1850&atid=7162
