Description
I'm using Redmine trunk, and recently updated to r3603. Now I am seeing some incorrect behavior in the text formatting. I don't remember if it was doing this before too, but I think it only started happening after the update. A sentence containing with double dashes used as em-dashes is appearing with strikethrough on the portion in-between. Example: This is an example sentence -- this part should not be crossed out -- how will it look? On my system looks like this: This is an example sentence this part should not be crossed out how will it look? It does not seem to be happening here. Interesting! Here it's rendering like this: This is an example sentence -- this part should not be crossed out -- how will it look?
