I just upgraded to the newest version of Redmine in order to take advantage of the subtask feature. However I can't group tasks for a particular project by Parent Task.

To replicate go to a project and choose "Issues" from the top menu. Choose the "options" section and then open up the drop down menu for "group results by". I have attached a screenshot.

The patch indicated in #5196 was applied prior to reporting this and did not fix this issue. Can this issue please be reopened and looked at.

If you follow the steps about you'll see that you can not group by parent task.

I'm reopening this since it isn't duplicated by the #5196

- Status changed from Closed to Reopened

Interim workaround less than optimal: Name your subjects in descending alphabetical order. Then the tasks will be indented on the issues display. See attached.

- File RedmineSubtasks.png added

Related to Feature #10559: Add Parent Task to 'Group Results By' drop down added

- Category set to Issues
- Status changed from Reopened to New
- Resolution deleted (Duplicate)

Related to Feature #9992: Ability to filter issue subtasks in issue form added

Related to deleted (Feature #10559: Add Parent Task to 'Group Results By' drop down )

It's so strange that this is not possible.

#16 - 2017-03-04 05:07 - Go MAEDA
- Duplicated by Feature #24942: Additional "Group by results" option for parent task added

#17 - 2017-04-08 16:21 - Tom Scheler
- File issue_query_group_by.patch added

The attached patch could be used to add the feature, but it's not tested. Could somebody with more insight check my changes, please? I am planning to use it in production as well and was wondering why the parent task is not in the list of groupable columns.

#18 - 2018-09-08 08:42 - Marius BALTEANU
- Duplicated by Feature #29519: Issues Section/Tab - Allow issues to be grouped by Parent added

#19 - 2018-09-08 17:17 - Bharat Shah

Any chance this feature 'Group by Parent Task' feature developed and released for use?

#20 - 2018-10-01 01:43 - Go MAEDA
- Target version set to Candidate for next major release

#21 - 2019-02-14 05:53 - Hide MATSUTANI

+1 It would be very useful if this is implemented.

#22 - 2019-11-17 16:45 - Aleksandar Pavic

+1 required in some use-case scenarios.
