Description

I posted this same error on the forum previously to put it as an issue. Since last friday I got no answer so I guessed nobody knows about the problem.

The behaviour is the next:

1. Create a new issue.
2. Modify the issue inserting a note text and save.
3. After saving, the browser shows a Internal Error (500) web page.

If you go to the Issues tab and press on that issue you get the same error page. Apparently, the modifications are saved into the database.

and got the same error

#3 - 2010-04-20 22:20 - Holger Just

Looks like a duplicate of #5113.

Obviously your installed Advanced Roadmap Plugin which overwrites `app/views/issues/show.rhtml` is not fully compatible with the latest changes in trunk. Either update that plugin or file a bug report to the original plugin author. This is not an issue with Redmine core!

#4 - 2010-04-21 10:47 - Arturo Díaz-Almagro

- Status changed from New to Resolved

Yep, you are right. I tried to remove all plugins and check that is the advanced roadmap plugin which is causing troubles. I will report to the developers.

Sorry.

#5 - 2010-04-21 12:38 - Felix Schäfer

- Status changed from Resolved to Closed

- Resolution set to Invalid

#6 - 2010-05-17 15:11 - Wael Nasreddine

- File fix-advanced-roadmap.patch added

I'm not re-opening this issue, but I'm just going to upload a patch that resolve this issue (saving other people's time)

I posted the patch upstream too <http://ociotec.com/redmine/issues/262>
