Description
Member role forms in project settings should be hidden by default. And we click [edit] button to see them. But if I add some member to a project, all member role forms are shown. So I have to click [cancel] button one by one to hide them. It seems that the behavior was changed after the fix for #4852 ( r3483 ). Because the load event handler bellow is not called after member added. <pre>Event.observe(window, 'load', function() {   $$('.hol').each(function(el) {     el.hide();   }); });</pre>

Hide the role forms when editing or adding Project members. #5452

Contributed by Yuki Kita

History

#1 - 2010-05-06 09:08 - Felix Schäfer

- Category set to UI

- Target version set to 0.9.5

I have also had that problem on at least one of my installations. I'll try to go through all of them and post the version numbers.

- File `_members.rhtml.diff` added

See patches attached for `application.js` and `_members.rhtml`

The name of the function `hideRoles` could be change if not appropriate.

Thanks for your cooperation.
The patch works fine.
But I noticed that there still remains some code to be fixed.
So I updated your patch.

But I noticed that there still remains some code to be fixed.

Member role forms are shown not only after member added, but also after member deleted and member role changed.

#6 - 2010-05-11 14:38 - Yuki Kita

- File member_role_forms2.patch added

Updated the patch to reflect the current trunk.

#7 - 2010-06-19 21:44 - Eric Davis

- Status changed from New to Resolved
- Assignee set to Eric Davis
- % Done changed from 0 to 100
- Resolution set to Fixed

Fixed in r3784. I did it a little differently and had the RJS in the MembersController send hideOnLoad() to the page itself. Thank you for the contribution.

#8 - 2010-06-20 00:58 - Eric Davis

- Status changed from Resolved to Closed

Merged to 0.9-stable for release.
