

Redmine - Feature #5552

special type of list for custom field - users

Description
would be very handy to be able create custom fields with the list of users. should behave just like the standard field 'assigned to:' eg respect project boundaries. For us this would allow us to have other participants on a ticket esp "verified by:" without loosing sight of who actually did the work. Obviously don't want to be maintaining the list by hand.

@Darryl: Not sure how soon or even if (though I'd find it a worthy addition too), but the dev team priorities are at quite a different spot for the moment, so I wouldn't expect it too soon.
