Description Even though a version is declared as shared by sub-projects, it doesn't show up in an issue's edition form. Setting fixed_id through the rails console exhibhits the right behavior.  It seems as though the code for assignable_versions in the issue controller needs to walk not only the project but also it's parent's projects in that case, I don't get exactly what needs to be modified here:  1. Versions that the issue can be assigned to def assignable_versions @assignable_versions   = (project.shared_versions.open + [Version.find_by_id(fixed_version_id_was)]).compact.uniq.sort end
