Description

We would really like to see that versions are dependent timeline wise of the precedent issues. (milestones work this way in MS-project
Meaning that if I alter an issue, and postpone the enddate with 2 weeks, also the corresponding version will be postponed, and this will be reflected in the Gannt chart.

This could also be made for ordinary issues where a startdate, cannot be younger that its precedent issue and moved automatically in the latter issue

Thanks for a great program.

Old issue + I think Redmine has now equivalent features.
