Description

Currently, the 'Text formatting' is global base. As we have multiple projects, some projects we would like to use the default textile format. But some we would like to use the ckeditor plugin.

It would be nice that the 'Text fromatting' is project base, not global redmine base.

Useless to assign this issue, it won't make the resolution faster. Your request is related to a much more general issue, see #4015.

I don't close this one since when we address #4015, we probably want to keep track of solved/unsolved related issues.
