Some :caption options were intentionally removed in r1137, since menu names are now automatically mapped to the proper localized string if it exists (eg. if the menu name is :foo, the translated string :label_foo will be automatically used if it exists).

Look at the very end of this diff:

It works fine for me. Could you confirm the bug ?

OK. Fresh checkout seems to be working. Fault is somewhere on my side. This issue have to be closed. Thanks and sorry for the havoc.

Got it :)

If I use any plugin, then all top menus translations are broken. Try to add extra/sample_plugin to the vendor/plugins/ directory, restart rails and you'll see. Probably it cause of that plugin uses its own ymls?
