Description

I think it wuld be good or well it can be optional if you like to start on issue id 1 for all your projects,

Or just have it like it is today it fallow the next id that will comes up so it means fallowing.

If project 1 has 3 issue ids and you start a new project and make a new issue to it it got id 4

Can you tell why it won´t be fixed or implanted?

It culd be optional and can´t be hard to fix :/

Please check this solution. Note, that it requires you to specify the project key, which gets prepended to the issue number.
