

Redmine - Defect #6934

Ticket list: Behaviour with no filter

Description

In the ticket list, the standard filter setting is "Status = open", with that filter's checkbox checked. Thats OK.

But if I uncheck that filter, and apply that, the standard filter is in effect again. I presume this behaviour to be intentional, but I think it's not logical. Unchecking that filter means for me "use no filter at all", and that should result in listing each and any ticket - not in just reactivating the standard setting "open tickets".
