Description We using some plugins and now we have about 14 tabs in project menue if all modules are enabled. Would be nice if we could at least configure the order from left to right the tabs shall be shown and if they shall be shown or not  e.g Activity>New Issue>PluginsTab1>Overview>Roadmap>Wiki>PluginsTab2>...  and don't even show the "Issues" tab, for example,

Is there any update to this? Is it possible to order tabs?

I'd say it's remotely related to #15880. This would allow plugins to create or hook into sub menus to save space.

I think it will be better for users to be able to customizable the project menu orders.
The attached patch will allow users to specify project menu orders in Admin->Settings->Project.

Using the patch attached in #note-11, add the following setting list to Admin->Settings->Project

The project menu will appear in the order set in the list.

I propose a patch to reflect the menu order settings on the project s page as well.

project menu (project page)	application menu (projects page)
