I understand the last two modifications of the file, but not the first two ones. Can you explain a bit your patch and, if possible, provide some unit tests with it (not for the certificate part, but the things you mention may be testable).

#3 - 2010-12-16 13:50 - Dmitry Salashnik

1. Skip ~~directory~~ ANY ITEM if there is no commit date (usually that that we don't have read access to it).
In my repository exists not readable files for redmine. without this patch directory listing breaks on this file

Skip directory if there is no commit date (usually that # means that we don't have read access to it)
- next if entry['kind'] == 'dir' && commit_date.nil?
+# next if entry['kind'] == 'dir' && commit_date.nil?
+ next if commit_date.nil?

2. I don't know why, but sometimes logentry['msg'] = nil and redmine crashes on this revision and it not appears into redmine's revisions listing :(

- :message => logentry['msg']['__content__'],
+ :message => (logentry['msg'] ? logentry['msg']['__content__'] : ""),

3. Simply debugging code, i want know what happens when crashed :)

- rescue
+ rescue Exception => e
+ logger.error "ERROR: #{ e.message}"

4. Allow working with self-signed cert

- str << " --no-auth-cache --non-interactive"
- + str << " --no-auth-cache --non-interactive --trust-server-cert"
