Description
Still got this problem on Firefox. The link "Add another file" points to "http://localhost/redmine/projects/red/issues/new#" .
Using Redmine 1.1.1 (stable) on Firefox 3.6.15 32-bit, Windows XP 64-bit.
Recurrence from issue #5935 .

Can't reproduce.

The link is correct, though.

Could you describe the behavior with some more details, please ?

On any screen that has the link "add another file" (issues, wiki, etc.), when you click nothing happens. Even if I already have one file selected through the "browse" button. That happens also on IE.

Here at the official Redmine (1.1.2 i think), when you click the link, another file box is shown, with another textbox for the file path and another "browse" button.

Do you have plugins installed, did you modify some javascript files ?

#4 - 2011-03-18 13:38 - Cassiano Monteiro

Plugins installed:

Redmine Attach Screenshot 0.0.4

Redmine Charts 0.1.0

Redmine Time Tracker 0.4

Stuff To Do 0.4.0

I didn't do any modifications.

Did you try to deactivate your plugins (specifically "Attach Screenshot") ?

#6 - 2011-03-18 14:47 - Cassiano Monteiro

You got it. I removed the plugin, and the link "add another file" worked. So actually it's not a Redmine bug, but a bug from the plugin. Sorry for not having realized that before.

Hello Guys, I am using the redmine in Safari and it still fails. I am Redmine 1.2.1 with the plugins- Stuff-to-do, To-dos, Redmine Backlogs and Wiki Extensions.

I kinda feel 'Add Another file' doesn't work even before installing the plugins. Not sure if it is a bug with the Redmine version 1.2.1

~~Redmine 2.3.0~~

~~Add another file link doesn't work in Firefox nor in IE.
Javascript method addFileField() seems to be absent.~~

In my case, the reason is most likely in ScreenShot plugin.
