Description

It would be a nice feature if there was a way to configure Redmine (e.g. in Administration->Settings->Email notifications) to send an email to the administrator when a new project is created.

Yes indeed +1

- When a non-admin with role permission creates a new project, admin is not warned but only if the member gestion is allowed too.
- This is a problem when non-admins are your customers and you don't want them to see each others :)

A better solution would be assigning users to user, so that they would attribute "finement" but a lot of implementation there. (?)
