Description

From an issue, I can click on 'Log time' to log my time spent on this issue.

However, after having added my hours, I am presented with a list of all the loggued time for this issue.

Unfortunately I cannot find a way to easily go back to the issue I was viewing (adding time to).

In the timelog/details?issue_id=XX page I assume that the Issue column should link me back to my issue...unfortunately that link brings me back to the same timelog page.

I'm not sure if this is the desired behavior, but I would much rather have a link to go back to the issue I was originally looking at.

I've just committed a fix (rev 599).
The issue link in the subtitle now links back to the issue (see screenshot).

Is it OK for you ?

Seems I forgot to attach the file...

Thanks for the very quick fix. Yes that is much better...

But from a usability point of view, wouldn't it be even better if the link was the issue column? Like that you could visualize all the loggued time in a given project, and goto any issue that interests you. And like that it would stay consistent weither your looking at the log time for a particular issue or the entire project.

I attached a picture of what I'm trying to say.

thanks

Sorry...taking me awhile to figure out how to upload a file...

Would be nice indeed.

Expected behaviour was implemented in r794.
