Description
#3189 provides instructions for changing what boxes are checked by adding a value to a program; this would result in a global change. Our developers are fine with the default (Issues, News, Documents), but our project managers would like their tab to default to all checked (add wiki, messages, and time spent). It would work best if we could either set these by group or let the user set their own.
