Description
It was an eureka moment for me when I discovered that I could right click on issues in the "Issues" tab. Redmine became a lot more useful. Previously I had been looking for that kind of bulk actions in the options fieldset. Maybe there should be a text in the options fieldset saying something like "Rightclick an issue in the issue list to see bulk actions"?

It's unintuitive that you can only click on the checkbox (in Chrome). I spent ages hunting for where on the line I could right-click, and only getting the browser's context menu.
