

Redmine - Feature #8577

"Private" column and filter on the issue list

Description
Private issues are quite useful. However, one has to open the issue to see if it is private or public (for those that may see both). Could you mark them anyhow in the ticket list, roadmap, gantt chart, ... ? In the ticket list there could be an own column for that. For a first step it may would be sufficient if there is just an icon beside the ticket number (red circle with a 'p' inside, for example). The own column would imply that it can be sorted by privacy. More sophisticated but also more useful, of course. What do you think?

I like it.

It will be usefull to Add Filter and Column into the Issue List.

I think it should be with a highest priority as almost a bug (all property fields of an issue and more are in filters except this new one).

This implies another feature request ;-)

#6 - 2011-07-26 10:57 - Pavel Konstantinov

+1 important feature.

Need to add: filter, column, action for group issue edit actions

#7 - 2011-09-06 17:25 - ju mar

+1, feature seams crippled without the ability to use the "private" flag in filters

#8 - 2011-09-06 18:04 - Etienne Massip

- Target version set to Candidate for next major release

This is exactly what I need. Private flag is very useful!

#11 - 2012-07-05 15:54 - Jean-Philippe Lang

- Subject changed from Visualize private issues to "Private" column and filter on the issue list

- Category changed from UI to Issues

- Status changed from New to Closed

- Assignee set to Jean-Philippe Lang

- Target version changed from Candidate for next major release to 2.1.0

- Resolution set to Fixed

There's a css class for private issues so you can tweak your stylesheet.

| The own column would imply that it can be sorted by privacy. More sophisticated but also more useful, of course.

"Private" column and filter are now added.
