Description

We recently upgraded our redmine to 1.2.1 from 1.1.0 and everything works great except for issues. We are able to create new issues and view them without any problem until we create subtask which resulted in 500 error for the entire issues when trying to view it.

I tried to follow other recommendation from using plugins from older version (we don't have any custom plugins btw), and re run db migration script which none help. Below is what we got from production.log

```

Can anyone shed some lights here? Thanks in advanced.
