Can't reproduce?

Could this be a plugin interference?

No, I have test this behavior with a fresh clean install of 1.2.1 stable release and the issue is still here

So you didn't change any of the existing workflow before doing the test?

What role did you pick for workflow copying when creating the new role?

#5 - 2011-09-15 17:02 - pasquale [:dedalus]

I have create a new role based on existing one "Developer"

- Status changed from New to Closed

- Resolution set to Invalid

Sorry, I misread in the first time: you said no checks are flagged in permission report

I thought you were actually talking about the states & transitions per role per tracker, what is usually called workflow but...permissions are not part of a workflow and I don't think there has ever been such a feature in Redmine.

Surprisingly, I didn't find any Role copy feature request in issues database, so you might want to open a new one.
